Tomboy, the [gender fluid, sometimes queer]. Usually a term associated with girls acting 'as boys' [Kooos und Mondini 2002] // refusal of a gender role which is oppressed in a patriarchal world // thus reproducing patriarchy?? // can challenge gender binaries and heteronormativity embodied in phallic architecture and sexual harassment // cross-gendering as provocation of biological based gender assumptions // survival strategy

Internalized Patriarchy!!!

Oh my me, OMG
How did this girl get so fly?
I DO WHAT YOU DOING, BOY, DOING IT LIKE A TOMBOY
OMG
How did this girl get so fly? I do what you're doing, boy

I'm a girl's girl, I'M A BOSS IN A MAN'S WORLD
yeah, I can pick and roll, pass, ballerina twirl

Skating through the city
With my snapback on // still be looking pretty with no ma keup on // hit Sephora quick, I get a red lip // But meet me on the court // I'll ball you up on he s... quick? But I don't

The language of architecture draws on the idea that gender is a binary opposition, with different forms and features described as masculine or feminine. Bondi suggests that these codings of the built environment "interpret gender difference as 'neutral' and thereby universalize and legitimize a particular vision of gender differentiation".

DOING IT LIKE A TOMBOY
[...] I'm making sure you get the memo
yeah // I'll meet you up on any level, yeah // INDEPENDENT
DON'T NEED HELP
Underestimate me,
You'll be playing yourself

I'll make a jealous girl my FRIEND
I'll make my ex want me again

I GOT THE BEST OF BOTH WORLDS
I can hang with the dudes
Get pretty with the girls
Oh my

OMG
How'd this girl get so fly?
I do what you doing boy
DOING IT LIKE A TOMBOY
Oh my me, OMG
How'd this girl get so fly?

can't stop crying

gave me a live and

The guy at the corner shop

Just got back from the boulevard,

I know, he was trying -

but a lie is a lie.
